Funding for CARB Diesel and Zero Emission Compliance Expanded

California Air Resources Board (CARB) has announced updates to the Carl Moyer Voucher Incentive Program (VIP). The Carl Moyer Program provides grant funding to help small fleets (10 vehicles or less) with costs of engines, equipment and other technologies that achieve emission reductions that are surplus (i.e., early and/or in excess of what is required by regulation).

Voucher funds have traditionally supported the transition of small fleets to the 2010 engine model year emission standard per the Truck and Bus Regulation.

NEW in 2022

Additional funding for replacement vehicles meeting the zero-emission standard up to $410,000 per heavy heavy-duty vehicle has been added to help meet California's zero-emission goal for medium and heavy-duty vehicles by 2045.

Applications are reviewed on a first-come, first-served basis, and applicants are notified within 15 business days upon receipt of their application.

For more information on how to apply, please contact your local air district.

A Day in the Life: MCAC Visits PJ's Rebar

On February 23, 2022 MCAC Past President Ray Wetmore of Pacific Bay Masonry and MCAC Executive Director Julie Trost were treated to a behind-the-scenes look at PJ's Rebar & Stud Rails operations at their 12-acre facility in Turlock, CA. It was clear this is a well-oiled machine with a balance of skilled staff and technology that keeps 35 trucks stocked in order of delivery ready to go at any time.

The PJ's team introduced us to the HRC 555 Headed Rebar as a solution for congestion and standard hooks. Come see the HRC 555 at the MCAC Golf Tournament on April 29 in Corona, CA.

Thank you PJ's Rebar for this insider perspective and rolling out the red carpet for MCAC.

PJ's Rebar is a MCAC Associate Member and the first MCAC

Resources for Contractors: Contractors Licensing Center

Ever forget to renew your license on time? Or, maybe your Responsible Managing Officer is a generation (or two) behind? And you need a fix ASAP! These are the kinds of paperwork headaches that can lead to payments being withheld, penalties being assessed -- not only from the Contractors State License Board (CSLB) but from project owners -- and all the domino effect of complications when you have your company resources and your good name on the line.

MCAC has worked with Contractors Licensing Center \(CLC\) principal, Phil Vermeulen, on issues of impact to the construction industry over many years. Phil has participated in CSLB proceedings since 1981. I have witnessed Phil's team at Contractors Licensing Center work miracles on behalf of contractors. So, if you ever need a hand with a licensing issue, keep CLC as a valuable tool in your toolbox.

What does CLC do?

- Contractor licensing, application preparation and exam assistance in all fifty states. Expedites available in California (must provide substantiation)
- Assistance with complaints filed against your license
- Incorporations and other filings with the Secretary of State in all fifty states
- Obtaining your employer Identification Number (EIN) through the Federal Government

CARB Offers FREE Training on New Zero Emission Programs and Regulations

The California Air Resources Board (CARB) has several new regulatory programs to help the State become carbon neutral in the future. These programs are going through the public process designed to get input from people and industries affected by the eventual requirements. MCAC has been participating in and reporting on these public workshops since Governor Gavin Newsom's September 2020 Executive Order N-79-20. But CARB wants to hear from end users. In furtherance of that goal, CARB has launched a NEW class to cover the requirements of existing regulations and the new programs that will eventually be in effect. These programs impact passenger vehicles, heavy-duty trucks, commercial equipment and more. The next webinar dates for this class are:
